Junior Service League accepting grant applications

GRAND JUNCTION — Junior Service League of Grand Junction is accepting Community Giving Grant applications.

Each year, the league returns funds to the community by way of its Community Giving Grant Program. The league researches critical needs facing the community and nonprofit agencies to support programs and projects that work toward building a stronger community.

Grant funds are raised through Junior Service League's many fundraising efforts, including Viva el Vino, Walk 4 Life and proceeds from the sale of its cookbooks: "West of the Rockies" and "Celebrate Colorado. Since 1983, JSL have given more than $600,000 to area nonprofit organizations within our community.

Nonprofit agencies interested in applying for a grant can go to the league's Website www.jslgj.com.

Applications must be postmarked no later than Dec. 31.
